Move On To Eliminate Fire Hazard

DOCTOR JOHN'S BOTTLE CLINIC HUMMING ALONG

When we dropped in to pay our periodic visit to MABEL'S famous new, super, self-service, drive-in, package store in Wilmington last week, we were pleasantly surprised at the many sparkling new, departments she has opened up since our last visit.

The Libbey Safe-Edge Flareware and Home Barware, naturally, was one of the most fascinating with its many varied types of shiny, glassware - both for home-use and for gifts. We understand that a big, new shipment of glassware is due to arrive at the DRIVE-IN this week. And that many of the new items, selected by MABEL, are of the "gitty" type - quite appropriate for Father's Day, weddings, etc. There are 8 glass caddy sets as well as shaker sets of all types. And the prices are pleasingly moderate. For such top quality glass ware. (Guaranteed not to chip.)

Another department that caught our eye was the picnic-barbecue section. Here, on week-ends you can do all your picnic shopping in one swoop. There are Lilley cups, plates, napkins at popular prices. And you can even pick up the fresh hamburger or hot-dog rolls in a dozen-pack at terrifying low-smash prices. We hear whispers that bag-charcoal is to be added real soon.

But the department that always appears to be jumping with activity, no matter when you drop in to the big DRIVE-IN is Doctor John's "Bottle Clinic". Under the guidance of Johnny Fullerton, the new malt-beverage department head, thousands of returnable bottles of every description, both soft-drink and otherwise, are processed each week, in exchange for spot cash-money. DRIVE-IN shoppers usually pay a visit to Doctor John's Clinic as soon as they enter the super, package-store because the "old doc" relieves them of ALL their bottles and saves wasteful stops at dozens of other stores. The doctor doesn't seem to care where the bottles hail from - just so long as they are cashable! Yes, his BOTTLE CLINIC is certainly the BIG ONE-STOP, PAYOFF!

Doc John tells us that the lady from East Billerica still holds the pay-off record. She dropped in late last year with one load of returnables that netted her a cool $22.47. So, whenever your stock of coke bottles, etc., gets out of control, folks, run them ALL down to the BOTTLE CLINIC and watch the old DOC smile as he diagnoses your case and writes you a prescription that nets you extra cash instead of the reverse!

Parakeet Returned

Mrs. Richard McDermott of 1 Arlene Avenue, North Wilmington, announces that the parakeet which was occupying her house has been returned. The bird is no longer lost, it has been returned.

Mrs. McDermott told us that for three weeks her telephone was ringing constantly, and she also had a number of people at her home, inquiring about the parakeet.

As we said before, the parakeet HAS BEEN RETURNED to its owner!

Local Girl Severely Burned

Elizabeth "Honey" MacFeeley, daughter of Angus MacFeeley, of 77 Burnap St., has been a patient at Melrose Hospital for the past week. While at work in Wakefield, last Friday morning, a torch she was using flared up, igniting her clothing. Miss MacFeeley is suffering second and third degree burns about her neck, face and body.

Friends will be happy to hear that in spite of the seriousness of the accident, her condition is being considered "good". "Honey" is off the danger list and may be expected to return home in the near future.

Gail Bishop Recuperating

Miss Gail Bishop, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bishop of Chestnut St. has returned to her classes at the Wildwood school. She recently underwent a tonsillectomy at the Winchester Hospital.

MORE MONEY "DUMPED" INTO THE DUMP

Our town paid out a "heap" more money in one of our outstanding "evils" last Saturday, when the dump caught fire again. At approximately 12:30 p.m. fire again. At approximately 12:30 p.m. firemen received the call to Salem St., and remained on the scene for many hours, most of them until 5:00 p.m. many far into the night.

The cost of fighting such a fire, so many times each year, is getting to be more than the cost of eliminating the cause might be. Engines 2, 4, and 5 were on hand all day as well as a truck from the state, and several pieces of equipment belonging to Mr. Cronin.

Traffic had to be re-routed through the sand pit and was tied up and slowed down from 12:30 until after 5:00 due to the density of the smoke in the area.

The amount of money set out for equipment and man-hours reaches a goodly sum. Is there nothing to be done?

Town Clerk Passes Away

Funeral services for Mary E. Gilligan, 68, of Burnap St., who died very suddenly on Sunday, were conducted on Tuesday morning at 10:00 a.m. from the Joseph B. McMahon Funeral Home on Middlesex Ave. A solemn High Mass of Requiem was celebrated at St. Dorothy's Church by Rev. Father Leahy.

Mrs. Gilligan was born in Cambridge, but has been a resident of our town for the last 35 years. She has been serving as town clerk for the past decade.

She is survived by her two children; Mrs. Elizabeth Cavanaugh of Wilmington and James Joseph Gilligan, also of Wilmington. She is also survived by three grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements were under the direction of Joseph B. McMahon. Interment was in the Wildwood Cemetery.

Selectmen Attend Mrs. Gilligan's Wake

The Board of Selectmen disposed of their necessary business in as little time as possible Monday evening in order to pay their last respects in a body to the beloved Town Clerk, Mary Gilligan, who passed away so suddenly last Sunday.

The Selectmen took time, however, to commend the fine job they did in making the Cemetery look so well for Memorial Day.

CYO Jr. Baseball

Joe Peters, Jr., huris no-hitter at Chelsea; St. Thomas takes two opening contests.

Thursday, May 31; scoring 10 runs in the 3rd inning, St. Thomas defeated St. Margaret's, Burlington at Town Field. Timely hitting by John McCabe, Art Boudreau and Paul Ryan and alert base-running put the game out of reach for the visitors.

Monday, June 3: St. Thomas 2, Our Lady of Grace 1, at Chelsea; Joe Peters, Jr. blanked Our Lady of Grace with no hits through seven innings as St. Thomas' won the league opener.

Ed Paline was hit by a pitch in the second inning with the bases loaded. In the fifth, John McCabe singled home Paline with the winning run to back up Peter's masterpiece.

St. Thomas' lineup: Paline, 3b; McCabe, Boudreau, 2b; McDonald, ss; Peters, p; Ryan, 1b; Woods, rf; McAndrews, cf; Kavanaugh, lf; Moeglin, c.

Tunney's Furniture Store, sadly missed by lovers of a bargain since the disastrous fire at the old location, near Rocco's, last October, opens tomorrow, Thursday, June 6, at its new location in the theatre block.

Visitors will be amazed at the transformation wrought in the old theatre to make it as bright, new and modern as any furniture store within miles. Equipped with air-conditioning, the new store will be a pleasant place to browse on warm summer days.

We took a look at the new merchandise this week, and were pleasantly surprised by the selection of styles and prices. Tunney has all the newest modern woods as well as all the old favorites. The number of major brands represented in the appliance department will surprise you.

Tunney reminds you... "Don't forget, you can always make a deal with Tunney."

Patrick O'Brien Injured In Accident

At approximately 11:10 a.m. on Tuesday, June 4, two vehicles were involved in a rear end accident on Main St., near Weiser St. Both drivers were headed in a northerly direction when the incident occurred. Operator of the first car was Richard Parent of St. Paul St. Parent's car was damaged in the rear quite extensively while the vehicle being operated by Winthrop Frazier of Summer St., Reading was damaged about the front end.

Patrick O'Brien of 2 Mass. Ave., a passenger in Parent's car, was taken to the office of Dr. DeBarcellos on Ballardvale St., where he was treated for injuries received. Officer Dolan investigated the incident.

chance of being hospitalized for a severe mental illness was one in 20; today is nearly one in 10.

William Lascelles Calls Home From Greece

What was probably the longest long-distance call to Wilmington this Mother's Day was received by Mr. and Mrs. Francis Lascelles of 15 Nassau Ave.

Their son A2c William Lascelles called his home on Mother's Day from Athens, Greece, where he has been stationed with the Air Force for the past year. Two of his sisters, Mrs. Jacqueline Bland and Mrs. Pauline Copps, were at their parents home at the time and able to speak to him.

Before entering the Air Force, he was with the Army and the Navy, receiving highest honors in radio school in both branches.

WE WILL MISS HER

Anyone who had occasion to "brush shoulders" with Mary Gilligan could not help but feel the strength and dignity of her personality. How very much we admired her ability to treat everyone alike. Her desire to do things right no matter who felt that they should be done differently was more than commendable. If the law said "such and such" that was the end. Nothing was ever stretched or changed to fit "special people".

Our first swimming tag was free and good until lost. If request was made for a second tag, our town clerk relinquished it only after receiving the required fee. Why not? The book said the second tag and all others after that must be paid for. No one ever received any special attention from Mrs. Gilligan. The small boy with the dirty face, got his turn in line just as swiftly as did the "big wig" with the starched collar.

For the past ten years, the office of town clerk in our town has been filled with the greatest degree of efficiency. There is a possibility that our new town clerk whoever he or she may be, will fill the position just as well, but there is very little chance that anyone will ever fill it any better.

NANCY WEINBERG
SPRAINS ANKLE

The Bewitching Hour

By M. H. Sokol

You are alone in the cold black of night. You are walking home, a week of hard work finished and your only desires are of a peaceful rest when the destination is reached. The week has brought sorrow, anxiety, disappointment; and you ask yourself, why is this all necessary?

The wind is howling and the trees sway rhythmically with a methodical creak that forces you, every now and then, to turn your head for fear that someone is walking behind you. Your pace is quickened, and your only wish is to be home.

To pass the time your mind roams and thinks of unimportant and even silly thoughts. You remember when you were a child, how you played in the mud, climbed trees, were scolded for not coming to dinner on time... how free of cares the times were then. How free of fears! The future was meaningless as a child, the past undefinable, and only the present had any realization. It was an age of infinite joy, of sheer delight, and of unrealized love.

You begin to whistle for the silence is ominously frightening. A shiver runs through your body and you look up to the sky. All at once a new world appears and you stop walking for a warm glow is felt all over your body. You look all around you and all you see is the moon imbedded in a sea of stars, swaying and twinkling to the most beautiful song in the world. You stare, bewitched and stunned by this heavenly splendor enravishing the earth. It is all so grand, so free and so meaningless.

Once again you walk, only this time it is different. No longer are you afraid, no longer do you look behind; for suddenly you realize that in the distance, beyond the hills, the mountains, and the rivers, is home. Now is the bewitching hour, and could I but taste and drink but a portion of the life-I have just seen I should be happy to walk alone forever.

A Father Remembers His Father

By Joseph A. Brieg, Editor of the Cleveland Universe-Bulletin

You don't really realize, until you see your father dead. Then for a little while it seems that God Himself has died.

IT SEEMS that the stars must fall from the heavens, and the sun stop giving its light. You feel for a moment that something must happen like the earthquake and the darkness of Golgotha.

Your father was only a man; but somehow he represented (although you did not know it until he was gone) God to you.

HE WAS stability. He was strength. He was safety. He was security. He was guardian love. He was the foundation and walls and roof of your little universe.

All else could change; not he. All things could pass; not he. But he did. Impossibly, incredibly, he did. And all at once you stop taking him for granted; stop taking fatherhood for granted; stop taking God for granted.

SUDDENLY you see that your father need not have been your father. You see that he need not have devoted a lifetime to loving you and caring for you. Above all (he was) a good man.

thought!) you realize that God too might have chosen not to be your Father.

Then the avalanche of understanding thunders down upon you, and you know something of the eternal meaning of paternity.

IT MEANS THAT God trusts us—and that we do not fail Him. It means that He places in our poor hands His tremendous title of Father; and we do not spoil it.

Through all the centuries, all the eras, all the aeons, we have not spoiled it. To this day, the word Father falls nobly on the ear and into the heart. It might not. It might be the most hateful word in all languages. But it is good. It is not unworthy of God.

AND THAT is because, whatever else men have failed in, they have not, by and large, failed in fatherliness. They have stood fairly well in the place of God for their sons. And their sons love them. And bless them.

Men wonder, when their fathers are dead, whether the sun will ever rise again; and after due thought, adore God better for having known (so to speak) God's associate fathers.

OF THIS—if of little else—our race may be humbly proud—that we have not failed to keep the word Father so noble as to be fit for fathers, for founders of nations, for God Himself.

Some verses written by John Hale Makechne

In Memory (of his mother)
The bus stops, but Mother's not here.
Her Cheery smile and wave of greeting
Have left their message in our hearts.
Though she's not here,
we know she's there;
There with the gentle folk gone before.

First Snow
When the first snow falls on the ground,
We remember once-blooming flower so dear.
And the snow, so like a blanket on the ground, Keeps memories warm, forever-blooming and near.

Away From Home
No puppy-dog to bark;
No kitty-cat to meow;
With you in my thoughts,
I don't need a thing;
No Parakeet to talk,
nor Canary to sing.

Easter
How do we know that Easter-time is near?
Is it the Spring-time
birds we hear?
Or children out at play

Surely we'll all know
on Easter Day

A verse written by John Hale Makechne several years ago.
Our happy hearts are so full when we see nature so beautiful.
A rain-drenched tree,
That, after a shower we see,
Every bush with blossoms anew, and every new grass blade too.

The function and decorative characteristics of wood paneling have prompted many home builders to use it for walls of powder rooms, reports the National Lumber Manufacturers Association.
Wood paneling gives the powder room an individuality which women find especially appealing, the lumbermen explain.

Time of the Twister

Springtime is tornado time.
In the unstable transition from winter cold to summer heat, great masses of cold and warm air collide. When the heavier cold air is forced above the lighter warm air, funnels sometimes form to relieve the topsy-turvy situation. This is the twister.

SOME 800 TORNADOES boll up each year in the United States.
When they strike, local civil defense and the Red Cross speed to the rescue.

Spring is the time for a special weather eye to the tornado-spawning southwest.
Last year, for instance, every major tornado occurred between February and May. On one day—April 3—four giant twisters killed 30 persons, injured 415 and caused an estimated $13,760,000 damage.

There is no way to prevent a tornado. But early warning, proper precautions and speedy rescue of victims can save lives. In addition, disaster funds administered by the Federal Civil Defense Administration can provide emergency repairs and restoration of vital community facilities when Federal assistance is authorized by the President to augment State and local efforts.

As My Garden Sleeps

By Mari Gold

June is the month of roses and everyone loves a rose, in spite of the fact that they are a lot of care. As the rose bug is the worst enemy of the rose, keep them sprayed. The spraying operation should be carried out every ten days. When you cut roses for bouquets, cut long stems to keep new wood coming. Keep faded blossoms and yellow leaves picked off. Feed roses with manure tea or light feedings of commercial fertilizer. To prolong blooming, cultivate and water regularly. Climbing roses should be looked over carefully and any heavy growth should be tied into a proper position. Prune them and after flowering, cut all the old blooms off.

As soon as spring flowering shrubs finish blooming, they should be pruned. Now is the best time to do this, as they may be cut back and shaped without impairing your next growth. On old shrubs, cut out the large cover at the ground. This makes new growth and they won't get bare at the bottom. Cut back early perennials when they finish blooming and you may get a second bloom.

When hot weather approaches, the time is right to begin applying summer mulches. Cultivate and water the beds well before you mulch. If you plan to use peatmoss, it is a good idea to wet the bale before you open it. Give it a good soaking as it will be easier to handle when wet and will stay in place better.

For acid loving plants, such as, Rhododendrons, Azaleas, Mountain Laurel, Andromeda and Leucodaphne use last years oak leaves and pine needles, but if these are not available, you may use peat. A good mulch for tomatoes, cukes, squash or any vegetable is lawn clippings or sawdust. Sawdust is sometime difficult to acquire. Mulching tomatoes helps keep the blossoms and rot from developing. It also keeps the tomatoes off the ground.

Now is the time to feed your evergreen trees, if you have not already done so. After June, it will be too late.

When it becomes necessary to thin the plants in the garden or border, put the extras, water them and set in a shaded spot for a few days. Thus, you will have a "plant bank" ready to draw on when bare spots show up in the garden or border. This is an easy process and takes only a few minutes. Simply slip them out of the pots and place them in the bare spots where they are needed. You may also, rather than pot them, keep them in the ground with the earth high around them. Most gardeners toss the plants they thinned out away. Why not start a "borrowing garden" or "plant bank"? The garden bank is a great idea, especially if the cut worms get in and do their work.

Summer care for house plants is simple. After renovating, the plants should have a chance to renew their vitality in the fresh air. Open sun for the bloomers slight shade and protection for the begonias, semi-shade for the foliage plants and more dense shade for ferns, watering and pest inspection. It is advisable for most plants to be plunged (while in the pots) in the earth for summer. Bury them to the rim pots. Place your cacti in deep shade for its resting period. Bring out the poinsettias and cut them back. This will bring them into new growth. Geraniums which have bloomed all winter in the house, will not bloom well during the summer. They need a rest.

Most tall flowers require staking against winds and heavy rains. Use strong stakes and tie firmly with soft cord as regular twine will injure the plant stalk. Old coat hangers, cut on one end make excellent plant supports. Merely stick one end into the earth and place the stalk of the plant through the hook.

All plants grow to produce seed. The longer you prevent seeding, the longer your plant will bloom. Clip the blossoms from all flowers as they are about to fade. You will be paid "big dividends for small labors".

When gardening, there is one very little fellow, with a big job. We must be careful not to forget about him. If it were not for him, in many cases we would be very unsuccessful. Our little friend? Mr. Bee. Without his help, our gardens would do very little indeed.

The wild black bee is the fighting sting fellow. In early days, he furnished the pioneer and farmer with most of the honey used. Without bees, there would be no fruit and many vegetables would never produce. Flowers would not bloom without the aid of mother nature's own workmen. In the squash or cucumber hills, you can see the bees working.

You may not realize it, but if you spend a lot of time in your garden, the bees who work there, too will get to know you, and thus become harmless to you. Only sudden, quick movement will frighten your "co-workers" into stinging you. If they bite on you, simply stand still and let them get acquainted. Sudden movement on your part may be misinterpreted by the bee, causing him to "shoot first, and ask questions later."

WILMINGTON FIREMEN'S ASSOCIATION

Hi - Edes

At the annual Town Meeting held on March 1, 1920, the Fire Department had a article in the town warrant for a motorized brush truck. You will remember that last year (1919) the town voted to purchase the first piece of motorized apparatus for Wilmington. It was a Ford truck and was equipped for building fires. It worked out very well for fires of that nature but not so hot for fighting fires in the woods, thus the article in this year's (1920) Town warrant. The Town voted the sum of $2000.00 for the purchase of the brush truck and they bought a Reo truck and equipment.

At a special Town meeting held on May 28, 1920, article II called for a sum of money for the purpose of building an addition to the station, for the purpose of more floor space. The town voted the sum of $600.00 for additions and alterations on the Fire Station. $2000.00 for a truck, $600.00 for additions, those must have been the good old days (8 years too soon for me). Today $2000.00 would just about pay for the chassis and $600.00 would hardly take care of the Blue prints on the additions.

In his annual report to the selectmen the Fire Chief thanked the Town for purchasing the Reo truck. He stated that he can cover any part of the town from the station, in about ten minutes. For instance where it used to take about one hour for a horse to go from the Station to Fosters pond, he can cover the same ground in about eight minutes. He also invited the Voters to come down to the station and inspect the apparatus and to see how they operate.

Well, vacation time is here once again. If you are planning to go away on your vacation, here are a few precautionary hints to check before you leave so that your house will be intact when you return. Make sure you notify your milkman, newsboy, mailman, etc. Do not close your blinds or shades. Accumulation of mail, milk bottles and newspapers, plus all your shades down is a sure sign that your house is vacant and a perfect invitation for someone to break in. Notify your Police Department when you are leaving and when to expect to return so that they can check your house while they are patrolling in the cruisers. We mentioned above about your shades. If you leave your shades about half way down, your neighbors and police department will be able to spot any light or unauthorized person in your home. Also if a fire breaks out inside your house, chances are that someone will spot it before it gains too much headway. With your shades pulled down tight these things cannot be readily observed and much damage will be the result.

A few precautionary measures may prevent a fire from starting while you are away. Make sure that you pull all your electric cords out of the wall such as clocks, radios, television, lamps, refrigerators, etc. Remove any plastic or inflammable material away from the windows as the sun beating in can ignite them. Make sure your wastebaskets are empty and any loose matches put away in a tin container. Make sure that you shut off your oil burners, gas heaters etc. I realize that a lot of people have deep freezers etc., but the best policy is to pull the main electrical switch, whenever possible. Have a friend or neighbor check your house once a day to make sure that everything is in order and to air your house out. If you follow these few precautions, chances are that you will return and find everything as you left it. Here's wishing every one a happy vacation and until next week I remain, Your Friendly Firefighter.

WINS ATTENDANCE PRIZE

The monthly attendance prize awarded by members of St. Dorothy's Blitz Committee for the month of May was an automatic steam and dry iron. Last Tuesday evening, Mrs. Mary Fuller of Main St., was the lucky winner.

Among the winners of the weekly prizes were: Jean Stone of Veranda Ave., who won a lamp as a special prize. The tubular lawn chair was awarded to Adeline Riley of Cottage St. The free cards for next week's game were won by Mrs. M. Jones of Oliver St. Tewksbury.

For the Month of June, the attendance prize will be a folding chaise lounge similar to the lawn chairs which are being awarded each week as special prizes.

Keep just one thing in mind. You won't win if you are not there.

LOCAL RESIDENT GRADUATES FROM B. U.

The Boston Garden came alive on Sunday evening with color, dignity and charm for the Baccalaureate and Commencement exercises of Boston University, graduating classes of 1957.

Across the graduating platform, filed 2933 men and women to receive their degrees in their respective branches of education.

Among those graduating were Mr. Laurent M. Boisvert of 21 Parker St., receiving a B. B. A. degree and Otis Maxfield, former Pastor of Wilmington's Methodist Church, receiving his B.S. degree in education.

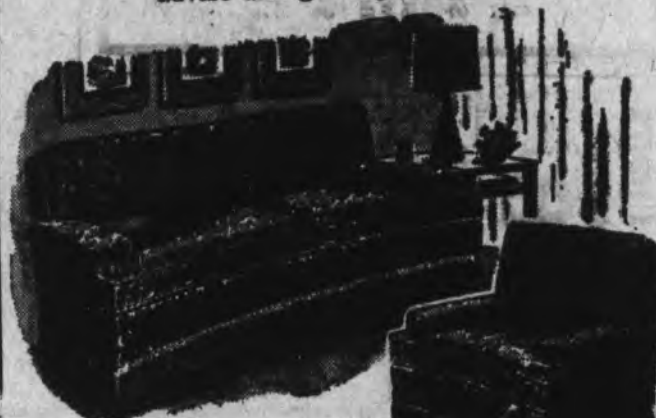

Family and friends were delighted to witness the honorary degrees conferred upon Dr. of Laws, Foster Furcolo, Governor of Mass. and Dr. of Humanities, Oscar Hammerstein II, of the famed "Oklahoma."

The Boston University Band played the Alma Mater song which brought to a close the colorful graduation exercises for 1957.

HERE'S WHAT WE DO

1. We don't tie springs just 4 or 6 ways — we tie them fully 8 ways and with special twine.
2. We don't just glue loose frames — we take out old dowels, replace them with larger and new ones, we add brand new corner blocks.
3. We don't tack seams at just the obvious spots — we hand sew seams throughout the piece.
4. The welting isn't simulated — it's separate, individually made — that means it's stronger.
5. The seams on the sides and backs aren't blind-tacked — all the seams are hand sewn.
6. We don't use ordinary fibre or coccolater — we use the new, expensive moss filling.
7. We don't just repair your cushions — we make brand new cushions with Armour's Hairflex (Latexed Hair).
8. We don't put the fabric on carelessly — we make sure the pattern matches perfectly.
9. We don't just cut from a pattern — we fit your cover as carefully as a tailor-made suit.
10. We don't settle for second-best materials — we use only the highest quality throughout.

Signal Habits

By Jeanne Smith,
Dodge Safety Consultant

A PET MALE GRIPE concerning women drivers was disproved recently.

So the next time some disgruntled male motorist complains that women never signal when they drive, confront him with the facts, ma'am!

Women signal more frequently than men, according to the Highway Traffic Safety Center of Michigan State University, East
Lansing. The Center conducted a study of the signaling habits of more than 10,000 drivers in this heavily congested college town.

Under the supervision of Dr.
Abram M. Barch, professor of psychology for the University, the study was carried out at seven different types of intersections.

Observers at some of these sites found that female drivers signaled significantly more than men. At other intersections signaling habits of both sexes did not differ significantly. Women never signaled less.

A word of caution to the ladies, however. Don't rest on your laurels. There's still room for improvement.

Instead of signaling instinctively for a turn, both men and women, the study indicated, are influenced by the type of intersection, direction of turn and presence of other cars.

"At no intersection did as much as 90 percent of the drivers signal for a turn, and in some cases it was much lower," Dr. Barch pointed out. In fact, at one intersection, only a fourth of the drivers indicated their intent to turn.

Signaling was most frequent at intersections of high-speed highways, while special turning lanes and traffic lights at interchanges tended to decrease signaling, says
Dr. Barch.

Left turn signals were made considerably more often than those for right turns, suggesting that cars approaching from the opposite direction may encourage signaling.

On the other hand, Dr. Barch contends, the presence of a car following within 100 feet or less did not seem to affect the frequency of signaling.

To the Class of '57.

The golden days of high school are about over for you, and you are about to enter into a new phase of life.

A great many of you are going on to higher realms of learning in college, and a great many are going into a different college, sometimes called the "College of Hard Knocks". Whichever way you go you will look back on the past four years as Golden Years.

Surprisingly enough, in a relatively short time, most of you will be married and have a family with all the joys, rewards, and responsibilities that go with a family.

We have watched you toddle into our office as babies, followed your activities in grade school and high school, in the Boy and Girl Scouts, on the athletic fields, and now look forward to your continued success in college, in marriage, and in raising a family.

It may seem strange to you, but do you realize that we are the proud possessors of customers that cover TWO generations, and in some cases THREE generations. We have been here a long time and hope to be here a long time in the future, and are looking forward to the time when you will start your home, so that we can provide you with the same good services that have won us so many friends.

May we wish you the very best of everything that the world holds for you, and as a famous saying goes, "Keep your eye on the doughnut and not on the Hole."

The first mass-produced tractor and its newest cousin 2,499,999 times removed provide graphic proof of the progress of farm mechanization. Forty years separate the two machines. At the wheel of the first Fordson is Merritt D. Hill, general manager of Ford Motor Company's Tractor and Implement Division. Irving A. The Lighter Side

(ACP) - Bill Moore gave this description of a psychology professor in his column in the Ohio State Lantern. He's a man who enters a classroom and says "Good morning, students. You're fine, how am I?"

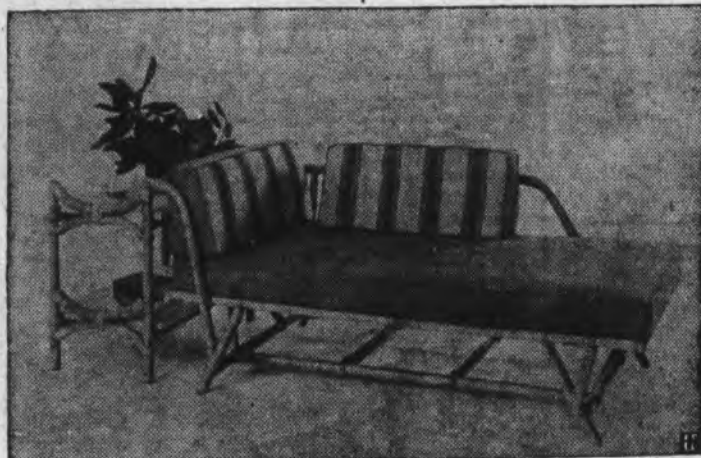

(ACP) - A rather strange situation existed recently at Louisiana State University. You can't say no to Uncle Sam, so the school's military department was rather nonplussed when a prospective freshman turned down its offer of compulsory military training. The department sent an information form, explaining that two years of basic military training are required at LSU of all physically-fit male students up to the age of 23. In reply, the prospective freshman wrote: "Thank you for your generous offer to let me join the ROTC at LSU. I assure you that I would deem it the greatest honor ever to come to me. After giving the matter deep consideration, I have decided it would be best if I declined your offer."

The freshman refused the offer "because of the advantage it would give me over the girls on campus."

The red-faced military department plans no action in the case because the he turned out to be a she.

A Bermuda Tradition

IT'S long been a custom in the mid-Atlantic British colony to fly kites on Good Friday. Most of the kites are homemade and every child, together with a surprising number of adults, vie to fly the biggest, the smallest or the prettiest. The Good Friday kite flying custom, while generally enthusiastic in practice, apparently has no particular historical or religious origin.

V. F. W. POST AND AUXILIARY DOINGS
by Deb Kleynen

I'm afraid this is going to be one of those weeks I spoke of before. Not too many activities have taken place. It's either feast or famine with us.

The Memorial Day Parade went off fine and the weather was beautiful. This was the first time in about ten years that I have viewed the parade from the sidelines. Still did not get a very good look at it as I was busy taking movies of it. Guess I'll have to wait to get my film back so I can sit down and enjoy it. After the parade, our group, along with the firemen (as our guests) returned to the Dugout for a potatoe salad luncheon with all the fixings. This meal was prepared entirely by the auxiliary and post members and was well done. Our thanks to those who stayed behind to get the set-up ready.

Oh, yes! I don't want to forget to mention that our new Color Bearer flags looked very nice. They are a little smaller than our old ones, but a lot easier to handle.

Not having heard from any of the other posts or auxiliary members, I guess they finished up the week by taking it easy, but not yours truly. Friday nite, along with a group of our local Lions, found us in Swampscott attending the banquet of their twenty-ninth annual convention. It was quite an affair and one which I enjoyed very much. I didn't think it was possible for two hotel rooms to hold so many people. When folks decide to get together nothing stands in their way.

Saturday nite, was the Democratic Ball at Marty's Penthouse. I didn't make this, but I know some of our members did and imagine their evening was well enjoyed.

The town was shocked and saddened by the sudden death of our Town Clerk, Mary Gilligan. The sympathies of our organization are with the Gilligan family at this time.

Until next week,
Yours truly,

Students Face Teenage Jury

By Jeanne Smith,
Dodge Safety Consultant

TEENAGE DRIVERS in Chelsea, Mass., face a tough jury if they violate traffic laws.

Instead of appearing before understanding adults, (no junior licensed driver is ever summoned to regular court for traffic violations) youthful violators are brought before a jury composed of fellow students.

Miss Smith

Chelsea is proud of the excellent driving record which teenagers have established in Chelsea. And the 'teen jury hands out severe penalties to young motorists who mar this record. On several occasions, licenses have been suspended.

A driver training program, instituted in 1950, is partly responsible for this intense interest in safe driving. J. Frank Hurlihy, superintendent of Chelsea schools, told me that he believes the safety education program not only affects young drivers but also prompts parents to improve motoring habits.

Chelsea was once afflicted with the second highest auto insurance rate in Massachusetts. Since the inauguration of the driver training program, however, accidents have decreased sufficiently to cause a substantial reduction in insurance premiums.

Driver training in Chelsea starts in grade school where every youngster is taught traffic and pedestrian safety rules. All high school sophomores then must pass a class on driving rules. This is followed by an optional behind-the-wheel driver course for 16-year-olds. Almost every student participates.

Where once the cost of insurance for motorists under 25 years of age made it prohibitive for most of them to drive, today Chelsea's young drivers are models for the whole community, says Hurlihy.

Soft and luxurious underfoot, a carpet adds beauty and comfort to any first bedroom for a bride. MARSHALL BISHOP BACK IN HOSPITAL

Marshall Bishop, 12 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Bishop of Marion St., who was injured a few weeks ago while at play at the Wildwood School, is back in the hospital.

Marshall, who received a head injury, returned to his sixth grade classes apparently well recovered. But a week ago Friday, while participating the air raid drill held at the school, he became unconscious and could not be aroused. Mrs. Esther Nichols, school nurse, accompanied him to the Winchester Hospital and stayed with him for some time. Last Tuesday, his doctor and hospital officials suggested his removal to the Massachusetts General Hospital. He has had various tests in an attempt to discover the cause of his trouble with walking and with his eyes.

DRIVING CARE

With spring just around the corner, many families are planning on loading their children into the family car and driving out through the New England countryside.

The popularity of Sunday driving has shown a tremendous increase during the past five years and this year is expected to surpass the previous record by an enormous number. What's the reason behind this sudden upsurge in Sunday driving? The answer to this question is relatively simple. Many years ago, before the popularity of the automobile, the American family would gather together and stroll down the lanes, boulevards, and boardwalks. Today, the family is still moving out-of-doors, but the trend is toward the adventure of new places and a variety of scenery.

Along with the increase in traffic on the highway, there is an increase in the number of highway fatalities, which are a direct result of the over population of the State highway system. We are faced with the inevitable problem of curbing the number of unnecessary accidents caused by the neglect of proper driving habits. You will probably say that there are many accidents that are unavoidable and we should not blame the driver. We shall grant you that there are some, but the ratio of the avoidable accidents compared to the unavoidable accidents is about one in fifty.

The Sunday drivers are here to stay, so we must plead with them to cooperate with the local and state authorities in regard to obeying the laws and regulations they have set forth.

Many of us at Tech own and operate motor vehicles, but we do not realize the seriousness of our traffic problems. We can help to combat this situation by showing proper courtesy toward our fellow drivers and impress upon our friends and relatives the importance of highway etiquette.

There are a large number of citizens today, who have found out the hard way, and they will go through life regretting the wrongs they have done. Their conscience is a reminder and they will know the sorrows of families connected with similar tragedies.

Why are so many suddenly drinking this s-m-o-o-o-t-h blended whisky?

They've discovered PINKIE 86 is as mild as any whisky they've tried — and yet offers them the superb flavor of the finest, rarest whiskys, as well!

BEFORE AND AFTER

From Floor Gazing to Star Gazing

No housewife ever has to be told how important a good kitchen floor covering is. Many a housewife has begged — literally on bended knee — for a new floor as she scrubbed the dingy, outmoded old floor.

But maybe you didn't realize what damage an outdated floor covering can do to your kitchen's decorative scheme. The small photo shows how old fashioned floor covering can spoil the effect of an otherwise modern decor. The sink, the cabinets, the stove — all of the equipment — is soundly up-to-date. The equipment is well set off by tasteful wallpaper. But the whole effect is spoiled by the clutter underfoot which makes the kitchen look its size and distracts the eye from the modern equipment.

Below, you see what a modern floor covering can do all by itself.

The only substantial change from the old kitchen is a new floor covering — inlaid linoleum in the new Gold Seal "Starway" pattern by Congoleum Nairn Inc. But what a difference! The little kitchen now looks serene and spacious. The light floor looks larger and cleaner, fitting the fine modern equipment. The smart wallpaper shows to full effect, relieved of the competition of a busy floor covering. Once again, a change of floor covering has shown the decorative importance of what's underfoot.
